SPAIN'S "BLACK HAND."

The Society That Threatens a General Social Upheaval.

A Conspiracy to Re-establish the Republic—A Terrible Fate Prescribed for the Traitor—The Agricultural Laborers and the Anarchists—Progress of Republican Ideas—A Movement for More and Better Education.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Madrid dispatches received from correspondents of English papers reveal a state of affairs in Spain which is causing in that country much uneasiness among those who have the sources of information and the best facilities for judging of the seriousness of the political and social situation. A conspiracy to re-establish the Republic was recently organized and many officers and persons of influence offered to join; but the rank and file unexpectedly asked for guarantees. The revolutionary workmen of Spain were willing to sign the paper presented pledging themselves to rise and take up arms against the government at a given signal if a clause was added by which all the conspirators swore to assassinate any leader who betrayed the cause. They urged that the rising must be simultaneous in every town where the conspiracy existed. If in any town the leader or leaders should fail to do their duty they were to be tracked out and assassinated. Again, the insurrection, if once master of a town, was bound to fight or withdraw, but in no case to capitulate. If, after the triumph of the revolution, any leader should desert his party and seek to facilitate a restoration, he must also expect to fall under the assassin's knife. Every leader who shall have failed to conform to the conditions of this pact will be killed without mercy or hesitation. The punishment thus meted out will serve as the most effective of warnings; and when the country is once again ripe for insurrection the party will have been purged of its traitors. This somewhat appalling proposition has retarded the day of revolution. The crowd is ready, but the number of leaders has been singularly reduced.

On one or two points all the Spanish trade unionists are agreed, whether Carlists or red republicans. They all recognize that their weakness is due chiefly to their ignorance, and unanimously clamor for the better instruction of their children. They have even created—and this without any outside help—several libraries and organized lectures of an educational description. Undoubtedly the majority, or at least the majority of the more educated Spanish trade unionists are Republicans; but they have lost faith in mere political leaders. So that, with the presence us associates of Royalists and the lukewarm disposition of the Republicans, the trades will not move unless it is clearly shown that some trade interest is at stake. Their policy is that of propaganda by action. They look upon a deal of violence as the best of advertisements, and abject misery as the readiest ally to revolution. The anarchists consequently are not strangers to the movements of the "Black Hand." The wages of the agricultural laborers in Andalusia were reduced last year because the crops were poor, and though they barely earn 20 cents a day, no increase has taken place this year, in spite of a good harvest. The large landowners seem to have agreed to keep the rate of payment down to the level of the bad seasons. The result might have been foreseen. A few of the more reckless among those wretched agricultural laborers who are in absolute want, sleep on the ground in mere hovels almost devoid of furniture, have, in their blind, ignorant indignation, committed arson and murder. This has happened not merely during the current year, but almost every year. Such acts of revenge are often due merely to individual feelings of resentment, and are not the work of a conspiracy, of the "Black Hand," or of the anarchists. Nevertheless some among the anarchist leaders have profited by this state of affairs. They have sent emissaries to the disturbed districts; they have encouraged deeds of violence, and the encouragement has increased the number of crimes and the extent of the dissatisfaction.

A MILLIONAIRE'S FIX.

How W. W. Corcoran Had to Pay His Fare Twice.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—A funny story is going the rounds here at the expense of Washington's millionaire and philanthropist, W. W. Corcoran. It appears that Mr. Corcoran chartered a special car for himself and party to take them to White Sulphur Springs, paying $80. When the car was switched off from the Midland Road at Charlottesville to the Chesapeake Road the new conductor came around for tickets. Mr. Corcoran refused to pay on the ground that he had chartered the car for the Springs. The conductor explained that the Pennsylvania Road had no connection over that line, and that unless $80 was forthcoming he would have to sidetrack the car. "I will not pay another cent," said Mr. Corcoran, who would have said the same if the amount had been 80 cents, "and I will spend a million dollars before I will be imposed on in this manner." "Who are you, any how?" asked the conductor. "W. W. Corcoran, of Washington, sir," was the stately reply of the great twenty-threes millionaire. "Well, sir," was the rejoinder, "if you are Mr. Corcoran, you can better afford to spend two millions than I can to lose my place." He said he would telegraph his Manager, however, for instructions. At the next station the reply came indorsing the conductor. This was shown Mr. Corcoran, and he was further informed that the car would be sidetracked right there in the woods unless the fare was paid. The millionaire growled, and swore and threatened, and paid the money.

THE PRESIDENT.

He Will Try a Ride on the Plains in a Spring Wagon.

GREEN RIVER, W. T., Aug. 6.—On arrival of the Presidential train at Cheyenne, at 9 o'clock, a large number of people were at the station, and during the short stop there the President, Secretary Lincoln, and Senator Vest made a few remarks and were introduced to the officials of the territory. As 9:30 the train moved out from the station, under charge of General Superintendent Dickinson, of the Union Pacific road. Eighteen miles west of Cheyenne we passed over the summit of the Black Hills of Wyoming, the highest point on the road, and where a monument has been erected to Baker Ames, one of the original projectors of the road. The train arrived at Green River at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, and in consequence of the prearranged plan to spend Sunday here, have remained quietly on the train all day. In the morning, at 7 o'clock, the party will take spring wagons for Washakie, and will encamp on the Sweetwater, one hundred miles north of this point. Next they will drive into Fort Washakie, fifty-five miles. There are three of these spring-wagons. The President, Secretary Lincoln and General Sheridan will ride in No. 1; Senator Vest, Judge Rollins, and General Stiger in No. 2; Governor Crosby, Mr. George Vest, Surgeon Forwood, and the press representative in No. 3. They expect to make about ten miles an hour over the five natural road, and reach Washakie about 3 p.m. on August 7. As there is no telegraph station this side of Washakie, the press will not hear from us again till after reaching that point.

RAILROAD OPERATORS.

They Will Quit Work as Per Announcement.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—It is now definitely known, on the admission of its officials, that the operators employed on the Chicago & Alton road presented a bill of grievances to that company, demanding a 10 per cent. increase, extra pay for Sunday work, and a release from sending commercial messages during the pending strike. The officials of the company say they are prepared for a strike, and will make no response whatever to the demand. If that event the men will be called out at Monday noon. The Wabash officials neither admit nor deny the presentation of a similar bill of grievance to the management of that company, but the general belief is that a strike will be ordered on that road also at the same time.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 6.—It is reported here that all railroad operators belonging to the Telegraphers' Brotherhood will be ordered out at noon Monday.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Master Workman John Campbell, of the Telegraphers' Brotherhood, states that a bill of grievances presented the Delaware & Lackawanna Railroad Company on Saturday and to be presented to the other roads on Monday, calls for an increase of $10 per month on every salary; that no salary be less than $50; that extra pay be given for Sunday; that all telegraphers discharged for refusing to handle commercial matters be re-employed; "all telegraphers" to include members or non-members of the Brotherhood.

BRADLAUGH MEETING.

The Great Demonstration in London—Fears of a Riot.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Bradlaugh demonstration in Trafalgar Square on Monday will undoubtedly be a tremendous affair. Trains have chartered from all directions, and thousands of Bradlaugh's followers will pour in from every district in England where the great infidel has sympathizers. The demonstration will undoubtedly be the largest of its kind ever made in London. Mr. Bradlaugh will do nothing more than present himself at the bar of the Commons and again renew his request to be allowed to qualify and take the seat to which he has repeatedly been elected, and from which he has been as repeatedly debarred. The great crowd will follow Mr. Bradlaugh to the Commons, and should he be ejected with any physical violence or should any attempt be made to disperse the demonstration, there will in all probability be a serious riot.

STRANGE FIRES.

A Singular Outbreak of Flames in Paterson, N. J.

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 6.—When Spruce street, leading to the P. & L. Falls, in Paterson, was widened years ago, and filled in some forty feet, a foundation was made by felling a number of large trees. Recently it was decided to further widen the street, and the Cooke Locomotive works were authorized to empty slag and ashes there. This, it is supposed, set fire to the ends of the trees, and the fire has spread underground until there is a large subterranean fire in progress, which has been burning about a month. Fissures have opened, through which smoke issues, and the heat is so great that one cannot hold his hand over the crack. There are also signs of the ground settling in several places. The water mains were tapped in hopes that the water might percolate through the ground and extinguish the fires, but to no avail and the strange conflagration still continues.

RAVENOUS SHARKS.

Some Narrow Escapes on the Long Island Const.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Nelson Barworth, while fishing off Matinecock Point, was attacked by a shark seven feet in length. By the vigorous use of the oar the shark was driven away. During the past two weeks sharks have been unusually plentiful in the bays on both sides of Long Island, and have caused considerable damage to the fishermen by destroying their nets. A few days since, while clamming, John Hicks, of Riverhead, noticed a stir in the boat near by, and hastily climbed into his boat, and had just got over the side when two sharks broke water in the spot that he had just left.

WORSE THAN EVER.

The State of Affairs at Ischia Horrible Beyond Belief.

The Terrible Work of Searching the Ruins—Soldiers Fighting From the Stinking Stench—Some Remarkable Rescues—Over 8,000 Unburied Corpses.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The state of affairs at Ischia is worse than ever. At first it was decided to cover the whole scene of the earthquake with chloride of lime, to protect the living in their necessary work among the ruins, so great and deadly had become the stench arising from the more than 8,000 human beings known to have perished, but when it was known that scores of living persons were entombed in the ruins the plan of wholesale disinfection had to be abandoned. A man has just been rescued alive from the crevices, which his person had acted upon as in tight fitting cork, overpowered his rescuers, all of whom fainted. There can be no doubt that many persons still remain alive in the Ischia ruins. It is probable that all those remaining alive to-morrow will have to be abandoned to their fate, as every part of the scene has ceased to be endurable. Scarcely a rescuer is left able to resist the terrible vomitings compelled by the indescribable stenches now prevalent. The entire island has been almost constantly shaken by a series of intermittent shocks ever since the great disaster of last Sunday. Strange to say, the odors which will now render further rescues impossible, and drive the force of humanitarians from this once beautiful island, will probably let in the hordes of Italian brigands who now hover about in sufficient number to pass any probable guard, waiting their chances to rush on the scene for any plunder.

NAPLES, Aug. 6.—The body of the German lady, Frau Blumenthal, which has been so long searched for in the ruins of Casamicciola after the earthquake on the Island of Ischia, has been recovered. NAPLES, Aug. 6.—A child which was buried in the ruins at Casamicciola on the 28th ult., has been rescued alive.

The Pope has decided to make the Archbishop of Naples a Cardinal as a mark of recognition of the services he rendered to the sufferers by the earthquake.

THREE TIMES BURIED.

Strange Experience of Two Fathers Who Had Lost Their Sons by Drowning.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Willie Campbell, aged eleven years, son of John Campbell, of 63 Broadway, Brooklyn, died on June 30, and has been buried for the third time, after the second funeral service over the body. The body was first buried in the Calvary cemetery at Stapleton, Staten Island, then in Greenwood, and finally in Calvary, after a strange series of incidents.

On June 30 the body of an unknown man floated into the dock at the foot of South Fifth street, Brooklyn. A crowd of boys gathered upon the wharf, and Willie Campbell fell into the river and was drowned. The river was dragged, but the body was not recovered.

On July 4 William Allen, aged 20 years, son of George Allen, of 12 Bergen street, Brooklyn, was drowned near the Narrows. He was boating at the time. A gentleman, his wife, and little son were with him. The boat capsized, and all but young Allen was saved.

A few days after Mr. Allen learned that a dead body had been picked up at the Quarantine station and taken to Stapleton. He hastened to the Island, made a hurried examination of the remains and pronounced the body that of his son. The funeral occurred on July 13, and the remains were buried in Greenwood.

Recently Mr. John Campbell learned that an unidentified body had been buried in the poorhouse ground at Stapleton. On Tuesday the body was disinterred, but he found it to be that of a young man. The black coat and vest of fashionable cut, the trousers, which had evidently been made to fit tight to the skin, and the stylish collar and tie, left no hope that it was Mr. Campbell's son. But at Stapleton Mr. Campbell learned that Mr. Allen had claimed and taken away the body of a barefooted boy not more than twelve years old, dressed in short knee-breeches and a light waist. This answered to the description of Mr. Campbell's boy, and he recalled an account which he had seen of the death of young Allen, and concluded this body must be his.

Mr. Campbell visited Mr. Allen on Wednesday, and explained these facts to him. At first Mr. Allen declined to consent to the disinterment of the body in Greenwood, saying it was impossible that he could have been mistaken, but the Coroner's description and that of the undertaker made it evident that the body could not be that of his son.

The remains at Greenwood were disinterred in the presence of Mrs. Allen and a son, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and two of the latter's relatives. Mrs. Allen said the body was not that of her son, and the Campbell family identified it positively as that of Willie. Mr. Campbell made the necessary affidavit before the Board of Health and took the body to his home. While the family were following it to the grave, Mr. Allen was removing the body of his son from Stapleton to the vacant grave in Greenwood.

ENORMOUS CROPS.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6.—A. A. Talmage, who has just returned from a trip over the railroad lines of Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, reports that the corn crop in all sections of those States will be enormous. In Nebraska as high as 100 bushels of oats to the acre have been yielded.

FRIGHTENED TO DEATH.

A Little Boy Chased and Scared Into a Fatal Illness.

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 6.—Frank W. Hemingway, aged 8 years, of 126 North Main street, Paterson, died it is said from an attack of scarlet fever, which was greatly exaggerated by fright. He and some other boys were picking blackberries on the premises of a farmer at Haledon Hall on the preceding Friday. The farmer chased the boys away, and it is said he acted in such a violent manner as to frighten Frank out of his wits. Frank was the smallest boy in the lot, and when they ran Frank could not keep pace with his comrades, and fainted from sheer fright. The farmer in turn became frightened and went home. The boys returned and assisted Frank to his home. He was so prostrated that he had to be carried upon their shoulders.

Mrs. Hemingway said that Frank, who was of a delicate and nervous temperament, was brought home in a state of complete nervous exhaustion, and was put to bed. During the night a violent fever set in. In his delirium he would cry out: "He's after me!" "He'll catch me!" His physicians say his disease was scarlet fever, and that the fright he was subjected to accelerated the attack, and was the cause of a more violent development of the disease.

MUTILATED COINS.

Measures Urged by Which They May Be Redeemed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Strong pressure is being brought to bear upon Mr. Burchard, director of the mint, for the adoption of some plan whereby mutilated coins will be redeemed at their face value. It has come to the knowledge of the Treasury Department that there is in this country a regular gang of men who make a living by "sweating" coins. It takes some capital to be able to follow this for a living, and the common method is to take a number of gold eagles in a bag and rub them violently together. The abrasions are not noticeable, and in the course of a day quite a quantity of gold dust is obtainable. Director Burchard says that it would be manifestly unfair to encourage these men by redeeming at its face value coin which they have wilfully mutilated. He is of opinion, however, that innocent parties holding mutilated coin ought to have some redress beyond that furnished by the present laws. In his report to Congress Director Burchard will call attention to the matter, which is of more importance than is generally considered. The amount of mutilated coin held by individuals is comparatively small, but the aggregate, it is estimated, will reach astonishing dimensions.

THE MURDERED INFORMER.

Some Sharp Official Correspondence on the Subject.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The murder of Carey continues to be the sole subject of conversation in Dublin. Carey himself chose to go to Natal. He would not go to Australia, because he knew many Fenians, fearing arrest, and escaped to that country. It is an open secret that Earl Spencer, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, is much annoyed by the murderer of Carey, and the prevention of Kavanagh and other informers from landing at Melbourne. There has been some angry correspondence between Earl Spencer and prominent officials on the subject. The Observer says it is rumored that Kavanagh has been murdered.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 6.—Kavanagh and the other informers are still on board the steamer Partisan. The Governments of New South Wales and Victoria, are negotiating with a view to settling the difficulty.

A TERRIBLE STRUGGLE.

A Fight With a Maniac on a High Church Spire.

ERIE, Aug. 6.—Daniel Conroy, who became furiously insane over the fifteen puzzle two years ago, and who was committed to Dixmont for treatment, was arrested at the instance of a fellow-workman, John Bowden, who alleges that while working on the tower of the new Cathedral, 135 feet high, Conroy became furious over a trivial matter, and threatened to throw him down from the tower, and proceeded to put his threat into execution. A terrible struggle ensued, and the men rolled and tumbled about on the narrow scaffold until Conroy was overpowered by the other workmen, and both he and Bowden saved from being dashed to pieces at the base of the dizzy height. Bowden was seriously injured in this struggle for liberty.

ST. LOUIS TRAGEDY.

Condition of the Would-be Wife Murderer and Suicid.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Lena Mezenzehl called at the Four Courts and swore out a warrant against her husband, who shot her and afterward tried to kill himself. The young woman stated that her married life, though brief, had been a bitter one, on account of her husband's ill treatment, and she asserted that she would never live with him again, even if he recovered. Mezenzehl is still at the hospital. When his wife bade him adieu he heaped reproaches upon her, saying: "I am dying a death of torture, but I'll end your days yet." Mrs. Mezenzehl left with her mother for her old home in Pinckneyville, Ill. The wounded man's condition is greatly improved.

A False Cholera Rumor.

CARMEL, N. Y., Aug. 6.—The rumor of cholera in this village can no doubt be traced to the death of Sheriff Dakin from dysentery. The three physicians of the village—Drs. Canionte, Ely, and Adams—agree that the disease is ordinary summer complaint, aggravated in some instances into cholera morbus or dysentery. Only one death from such causes has occurred. Just at present not one of the physicians has more than five patients with diseases of this kind.

FOREIGN.

Republican Uprising in Spain—Irish Threatening Letters—Anti-Jewish Riots.

SPAIN.

MADRID, Aug. 6.—A military uprising has occurred at Badajoz, in which the Captain General and all the authorities have been made prisoners and ten men killed. Railway and telegraph communication with Portugal have been stopped completely, and the extent of the movement is not known. It is supposed to have been caused by local quarrels connected with Portugal, which is within five miles of the frontier.

The outbreak among the Spanish troops reported from Portugal occurred in the city of Badajoz, the Capital of the province of the same name. The garrison of the town, numbering 700, pronounced for a republic, the Constitution of 1869, and Ruiz Zorilla for President. The troops and people fraternized. Several regiments of soldiers have been dispatched to Badajoz to suppress the rising.

IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Aug. 6.—Lord Chief Justice Coltridgge has received several threatening letters from the Feudians within a few days, and Saturday at the opening of the Bristol Assizes he was accompanied by a mounted escort with drawn swords, who acted as a guard also in the Court House. During the grand bar banquet Saturday night the waiters were all private detectives especially employed.

Michael Davitt received an ovation from the population of Kelke, County Clare. In a speech he said the Government was reduced to such weakness that they could not protect the life of

AFTER October next the three-cent stamp will not be issued, but it will be received for postage until the outstanding supplies are exhausted. The two cent stamp has already been engraved, and can be struck as wanted. The design for the four-cent or double postage stamp has been approved. There will be no alteration in the five and six cent stamps and those of the higher denominations.

A bow occurred between a body of Italian and negro laborers, on the Ohio River Railroad, in the vicinity of Sisterville, Ohio, last Saturday. The negroes pulled their "razors," but beat a hasty retreat when the Italians drew their stilettos. The trouble was caused by the negroes fixing a blast which killed two and wounded three of the Italians. Several of the negroes were wounded in the row.

Facts for Farmers.

Weedy pastures make poor and bitter butter.

Austria has more than seventy agricultural schools.

A 400 pound Connecticut hog was lately killed by sunstroke.

The New York Tribune says that any plant which crowds a better one is a weed of the worst sort.

A Yankee keeps woodchucks away from his cabbage by chaining a small dog in the middle of the patch.

Mr. Charles Goodright has 700,000 acres of land, located at the head of Red river, in Texas. He has a herd of 40,000 cattle.

A correspondent of the Western Farmer recommends the putting up of neat little houses for blue birds, which he has found most useful insect destroyers.

Mr. W. A. Cheever suggests that future success on Eastern farms may depend very largely on introduction of the labor saving implements of Western agriculture.

It costs $150 to import a Jersey cow. This includes handling on the island after purchase, transporting across the Atlantic and care during the three months' detention in quarantine.

The harvest in New Zealand has been plentiful. Eight acres of wheat near Auckland averaged 102½ bushels per acre, $7½ bushels of which were first-class.

The Rural New Yorker advises the planting of plum trees in poultry yards, as the only way, except jarring trees, by which we can have sound plums where the curculio abounds.

Mr. I. D. G. Nelson, of Fort Wayne, Ind., speaks of having utilized to great advantage a convenient straw stack by placing its contents in alternate layers in now with clover harvested rather green.

The Rural New Yorker now says Fay's prolific entrant is all it is said to be. The fruit is as large as the cherry currant, while the racemes are longer, and ripen one week before the old red Dutch.

The vast importance of the dairy interests in this country is shown in the fact that its annual products now exceed in money value the annual wheat crop, or of the cotton and wool crops combined.

Good Crops in Kansas.

The yield of oats is astonishing. One field in Harvey county measured 103 bushels to the acre, and weighed 120. A field of wheat in the same county made 46 bushels the ton there. In Marion county a wheat field of 130 acres averaged 35 bushels.

The prospect was never better for the heaviest corn crop ever known in Kansas. Even in the frontier counties, where the people have been distressed by drought in the past, good crops of wheat, oats, rye, sorghum, potatoes and broom corn are reported.

THE vote is in and counted up,
And we are forced to say,
The men who got the biggest vote
Are those who won the day.
Now straightway wind the tempest up,
On waters pour the oil, and
Show you're still on deck, although,
The Dutch have carried Holland.

THE second annual reunion of the 1st Kentucky Brigade C. S. A. will be held September 5th, at Lexington, Ky.

THE steamer Clipper, in complete repair, has re-entered the trade between this city and Augusta, making two trips daily.

THE Street Car and Transfer Company have a number of hands engaged in clearing off the track, preparatory to the reception of the cars.

R. R. Frost is a candidate for Councilman from the First Ward at the election next Monday. His announcement appears elsewhere in this issue.

A MARRIAGE license was issued Monday to Mr. Samuel Moss, a drummer, and Miss Georgie Hughes. Both the parties claimed Louisville as their home.

ON Limestone street, near Sixth, is a natural spring that with a little improvement would make a good hog-wallow. The attention of the city council is called to it.

PROF. F. W. TOBIN, one of the most noted scientists throughout the west, died at Louisville on the 4th inst. He has been connected with the Polytechnic Institute of that city for some time.

WE have seen recently some very substantial and neat wood work by Mr. Sam M. Hall, of the Eagle Plow Works, who seems to have a genius in that direction. The work we have been shown would have been creditable to any finished mechanic in the city.

THE steamer Katie Prather, Capt. G. W. Edgington in command, entered the trade between this place and Vanceburg this morning. Captain Edgington will run his boat as a daily packet, leaving this city at 6 a. m., and returning leaves Vanceburg at 2 p. m.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla is designed for those who need a medicine to purify their blood, build them up, increase their appetite, and rejuvenate their whole system. No other preparation so well meets this want. It touches the exact spot. Its record of forty years is one of constant triumph over disease.

THE Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad Company has procured the right-of-way through the farm of Mr. S. N. Robinson, of Charleston Bottom. The documents were lodged for record in the county Clerk's office Monday. The work of grading the road through the above farm was begun the same day.

SHORTLY after the town of Washington, in this city was laid out in 1785, the following notice might have been seen posted upon the principal business houses of the place:

"Attention, settlers, in the Limestone district! James McKindley, late of Pennsylvania, has just fitted up at his station, near Washington, a hand-mill for grinding corn."

This mill is said to have been the first in this county. Mr. David Hunter, grandson of Mr. McKindley, has just presented the stones of the original mill to the Library of this city. They will be fitted up, and our citizens will have the opportunity of witnessing one of the primitive industries of this country.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Mannen are at the Blue Lick Springs.

Mrs. Lewis Apperson and children arrived last night on a visit to her father, Dr. A. H. Wall, of this city.

Mrs. Flaherty and children, of Cincinnati, are the guests of the family of Mrs. John Kaine, Sr., of this city.

Mr. Daniel Hunt, of the dry goods firm of Hunt & Doyle, left Monday evening on a trip to the Bermuda Islands.

Miss Lottie Taylor, of Covington, daughter of Dr. Charles Taylor, is visiting the family of Rev. S. B. Alderson.

Hon. Garrett S. Wall left last night, on a trip to Old Point Comfort and other places in the East. He will be joined at Cincinnati by his family.

Mr. Hugh O'Donnell, who is visiting his parents in this city, has been on the sick list for several days. We are glad to state, however, that he is able to be out again.

MONDAY'S ELECTION.

Democrats Victorious in this County
--Kehoe and the Democratic State Ticket Receive

A MAJORITY OF OVER FIVE HUNDRED.

Lewis County Republican by a Majority of Two Hundred and Fifty.

The election Monday passed off very quietly. No disturbance of any importance having occurred, so far as heard from. In this city and county the members of both parties worked faithfully for the nominees. The result, so far as the vote for Representative is concerned, is a surprise to all, and very gratifying, indeed, to the Democrats. It has been thought all along that the race for Representative between Kehoe and Wadsworth would be a close one. Wadsworth, it is safe to say was confident of carrying the county. On the other hand Mr. Kehoe and his intimate friends have all the time had an abiding faith in the strength of the Mason county Democracy, and its devotion to the nominees of the party and its principles. The result shows that they were correct in their belief. The Democrats have carried this county by a large majority. The official returns have not yet been made, but enough of the precincts have been heard from to justify the Democrats in claiming a majority for their State and county of at least, five hundred. The majority may run up to six hundred when the official returns are all in. There is no doubt, of course, as to the election of J. Proctor Knott, and the rest of the Democratic State ticket. The only question is, have the Republicans succeeded in their effort to reduce the old-time Democratic majority? The indications are that they have not. We are unable to give the vote in this county, but below will be found the majorities in the various precincts as reported:

KEHOE'S MAJORITIES.

Maysville No. 1.....	111
Maysville No. 2.....	100
Dover.....	32
Minerva.....	50
Germantown.....	50
Lewisburg.....	8
Orington.....	125
Orangeville.....	32
Perry Leaf.....	32
Total.....	527

WADSWORTH'S MAJORITIES.

Sardis.....	1
Murphysville.....	3
Washington.....	1

Kehoe's majority over Wadsworth in the county will, according to the above returns, be five hundred and twenty-three. The Democrats have carried Dover and the Republicans probably have a majority in Murphysville. In precinct No. 1, this city, Charles Dawson was elected constable by a majority of about seventy-five.

SPECIAL to the BULLETIN.

VANCEBURG, KY., Aug. 7, 1883.—Bowman is elected Representative in this county by at least two hundred and fifty majority. Everything has gone Republican.

GETTING HER FATHER'S CONSENT.

"I tell you sir," indignantly exclaimed Colonel Webly, addressing a young man who aspired to the hand of his only child, "that I shall never give my consent to a union which I know would be unhappy."

"We love each other," replied young Balehuff.

"Love he eternally blowed! So I could have said years ago. I was devoted to the woman I married and she was devoted to me."

"You have lived happily with each other have you not?"

"Happily!" the Colonel contemptuously repeated. "I didn't have money enough to ensure happiness. Even in Arkansas a man must have money. His wife may be devoted to him, but if he fails to provide those little delicacies which make life so enjoyable to a woman, she will speak of this sad lack of comfort, and instead of attributing it to financial inability, will regard it as wilful neglect. At times she will be melting with affection and vow that your love is all that she cares for in this world, but when some one who in worldly goods seems no richer than yourself rides in a buggy with his wife, she loses sight of the great sustaining love and hankers after tangible affections, a street display of love."

"I am a young man of energy and good business capacity. I can work and earn money."

"No use in prolonging this conversation. I have told you that you shall not marry my daughter. I shall keep a close watch, and if I see you here again I shall act with violence."

"Well colonel," said the young man, with firmness, "as the gentler resources have failed, I am compelled to adopt the last resort. Some time ago, before you suspected that I was attached to your daughter, you borrowed ten dollars from me. Do not wince, sir; hear me through. You thought that I had forgotten the transaction, but I haven't. Now, sir, I intend to marry your daughter. If you persist in annoying me I shall dun you for the money every time I see you."

The colonel sat for a moment in deep thought. Finally he said: "Say, Bob, don't say anything more about the ten dollars; lend me five more and take the girl!"—Arkansaw Traveller.

THE MULTICHARGE GUN.

New York Tribune's Reading Special.

What is intended to be one of the greatest improvements in modern warfare is the Lyford-Haskell multicharge gun, which was finished at the Scott foundry in this city to-day. It has been undergoing construction for over two years, and to-morrow will be shipped to New York and thence to Sandy Hook. There it will be tested in presence of leading officers of the army and navy of the United States and foreign countries. The last Congress made a special appropriation for this purpose. Since the invention of cannon, 400 years ago, they have all been constructed on the same principle, that of containing all the powder in the breech, and the Lyford-Haskell has the first deviation. The weapon underneath contains four seats which each hold twenty-eight pounds of powder, while the breech itself only eighteen pounds. As the projectile starts from the breech the force of this (one 100) pounds of powder is concentrated on in one pocket after another rapidly discharging its contents. The gun is twenty-five feet long and weighs twenty-five tons. It is rendered doubly strong by a steel lining, and it is thought can send a projectile through a solid piece of iron twenty-four inches thick. It will shoot from twelve to fifteen miles and is intended for both harbor and naval defense.

The present gun was manufactured at a cost of $50,000, and Mr. Haskell has personally supervised its construction. The projectiles with which it is loaded weigh from 100 to 150 pounds even. A company with a capital of $10,000,000 has been organized for the manufacture of the gun. Ex-Governor Cornell, ex-Senator Platt and ex-Insurance Commissioner John F. Smythe, of New York, are interested in the company.
